

#30 Reaction Observations

In this lab, you will perform several simple reactions in test-tubes, record your observations (eg color change, precipitate formation, gas evolved, etc.) and explain them by writing a balanced chemical equation for each reaction.

You will not be doing all the reactions in the lab book - see blackboard in lab to determine which reactions you are required to do.

Note: As always, wear your safety goggles at all times